Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Pointless development. The Tesco would make much more sense located in the new build St Mowdens estate which has zero shops, and will force new residents into the already crowded village (with little parking)..... increasing the pressure on local infrastructure and causing more pollution issues, something developers are supposed to be actively avoiding.

Why build here and encourage more local traffic and pollution?
Zero sense and only effects the village and residents in a negative way.

Kind regards
