Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This road is already very busy with fast traffic that does not respect speed limit or pedestrians. Pavement is narrow and only on one side. There is also a nursery school near proposed egress onto West Hoathly Road. In addition it is already clear that the official water authority is unable at times to guarantee a reliable source of drinking water. Before any such development is even considered the traffic flow, pedestrian levels and general traffic management plans are essential. Basic services such as Water, energy, and GP doctors should all be addressed in view of yet more new homes in East Grinstead. This includes 550 new homes on Imberhorne Lane which conveniently connects to West Hoathly road , making it a potential RAT RUN connecting both developments. In view of all these potential and unresolved safety issues I strongly object.

Kind regards
