Hi Rachel

Looking at the further information provided:

Condition 3 Materials

The details provided are acceptable

Condition 4 Windows and doors

The details provided, which are standard manufacturer's specs for the window ranges proposed, show a number of different glazing bar and frame profile options- we need details of the specific design which it is proposed to use in this instance. No details of depth of reveal have been provided.

Condition 6 Landscaping plan

The fencing and gates as proposed are acceptable. W.r.t. hard surfacing the landscaping plan submitted shows a path running across from the main house entrance drive to the southern side of the folly- is this not to be hard surfaced? Also, there is what appears to be a circular terrace to the folly's northern side- is this not also hard landscaping? Can the applicant also please confirm whether the surface to the existing farm access track is to be altered or upgraded?

Thanks,

Emily

Dear Rachel,

Following on from your call and e-mail please see comments below and various attachments.

Condition 3: Materials

Whilst the materials described may be acceptable in principle can the applicant please provide a fully detailed materials schedule including full manufacturer's specification and images for each product, to allow us to make a properly informed assessment.

Please find product spec.'s attached for the Vandersanden Hailsham Mixture brick and various for the Acanthus stone cast: <https://www.acanthuscaststone.co.uk/technical-information/>

Code 5 lead work for the cupola roof covering with a hand-made lead finial. We have a very good lead worker who is trusted on the most important buildings nationally.

Image of the same Vandersanden Hailsham Mixture and Acanthus Stone detailing on the completed house.

Condition 4: Windows and doors inc depth of reveal

The drawings as provided are missing glazing bar detail and depth of reveal (sectional drawings will be needed in both cases).

Section drawings attached last.

Condition 5: Rainwater goods painted metal

Noted that the rainwater goods will be concealed within the structure of the building.

Confirmed. None proposed.

Condition 6: Hard and soft landscaping scheme (inc tree protection measures)

From a heritage perspective I would not object to the landscaping plan as shown, however we would need to see details of materials for any new hard landscaping, and elevations annotated to show materials of any new retaining walls, fences and gates.

No hard landscaping or retaining walls. The existing farm ride track to the folly is to be retained and used as the main access to and from. The product spec attached for the 900mm high estate fencing and single gate proposed to allow for the wild flower meadow creation.

Kind regards,

Simon
