Description of Proposed Works

Please describe the proposed works

Installation of an Air Source Heat Pump to be installed at the side of my property, to the rear. This will replace my current oil boiler & tank as the primary heating system, and is expected to reduce my heating carbon footprint by around 70%.

An MCS 020 Noise Assessment concluded that planning permission is required due to the predicted noise level at the nearest neighbouring bedroom window slightly exceeding the permitted development noise threshold. The neighbouring property already has an air source heat pump installed beneath the same window on their own property.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.
