Hi Anna,

Same for this one – given the report, happy to recommend that no archaeological condition is now required.

Kind regards,

Mark

CAUTION: This is an external email.

Dear Mark

Further to your comments dated 11.08.2025, see attached, please see the attached submitted Archaeological Evaluation Report.

Is the content of this report sufficient to address the aims of the recommended planning condition, and to avoid the need to attach it to an approval?

Regards

Anna

Hi Anna

With regard the archaeology, please now find the archaeological investigation work report attached for the extensions. As such like with the tennis court application this can now be approved with no pre-commencement planning conditions.

Kind regards

Hi Anna

I can confirm that the proposed pool will be located at ground floor level within the rear extension, as indicated on the submitted plans. The heating for the pool and surrounding space will be provided by an electric system, with energy supplied in part by on-site solar photovoltaic panels to minimise environmental impact and reduce reliance on grid energy. Ventilation will be achieved through a combination of mechanical ventilation with heat recovery (MVHR) and natural ventilation via openable windows and/or doors, ensuring appropriate air circulation and humidity control in accordance with Building Regulations.

Just as a reminder again, this application is identical in every respect to DM/24/2504 approved on 18/03/2025. On this note, please find attached the Archaeological Investigation Report which was previously the subject of the only pre-commencement condition, which has already been discharged (DM/25/1219).

Kind regards

Dear Jonny

As you will be aware I have been allocated this planning application, as well as the new application for the tennis court.

I have been speaking to Adam Dracott, Environmental Health Officer, this morning and I shall be grateful if you can confirm details of the intended position and means of heating and ventilation for the proposed pool, shown on the submitted plans to be located on the ground floor level of the rear extension.

I look forward to hearing from you on this matter.
