Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I refer back to many previous objections which still stand and the questions within have still never been addressed in the new plans which appear to be submitted on a frequent basis.

In addition, this last week, the field next to parcel 4 which is the proposed country park, contractors have been disturbing the earth. When questioned by a neighbour, the ecologist who was present informed they were watching the process to find any wildlife and remove it to a location further away from the proposed site. They planned to leave the earth disturbed to "prevent wildlife returning". How, in a country park is this acceptable and is clearly being performed so any inspection of the proposed parcel 4 is not compromised by wildlife.

A complaint has been made to the wildlife society.

Kind regards
