Reasons for comment:
Comments:	chain-link fence, barbed wire , 22.5 metre lattice mast !! Sounds like a small prison block and aesthetically awful appearance for a nice residential area. Not suitable structure for site. Also I hope West Sussex council are fully aware of their obligations under the European Electronic Communications Code and have fully considered the health and environmental impact??Simply blindly following legislation of build will not absolve West Sussex council and the council tax payers of possible costly future litigation. Do council have litigation provisions and has this been taken into account?

Kind regards
