This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Details of the pre-application advice received

With regard to the proposed single storey wrap around extension to the front and side elevation, this is considered to remain subservient towards the host dwelling. The use of the lean-to roof is considered to relate well to the existing and it is encouraged that matching external materials are utilised.

The proposed two storey rear extension is considered to be limited in its projection, measuring at circa 3.5m from the rear elevation. Furthermore, the offset from the original dwellings ridge is considered to allow this element to be read as a later addition. The offset from the shared boundary with the neighbouring site at No.3 is considered to help alleviate any overbearing impact that may be incurred. As for the proposed single storey extension, this is considered to appear visually subservient towards the existing.

The demolition of the existing outbuilding is not considered to be contentious in principle given the buildings limited architectural merit. The replacement outbuilding is considered to be of an acceptable size and scale, however it is encouraged that the window within the gable end is removed as this gives rise to a two-storey appearance.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?
